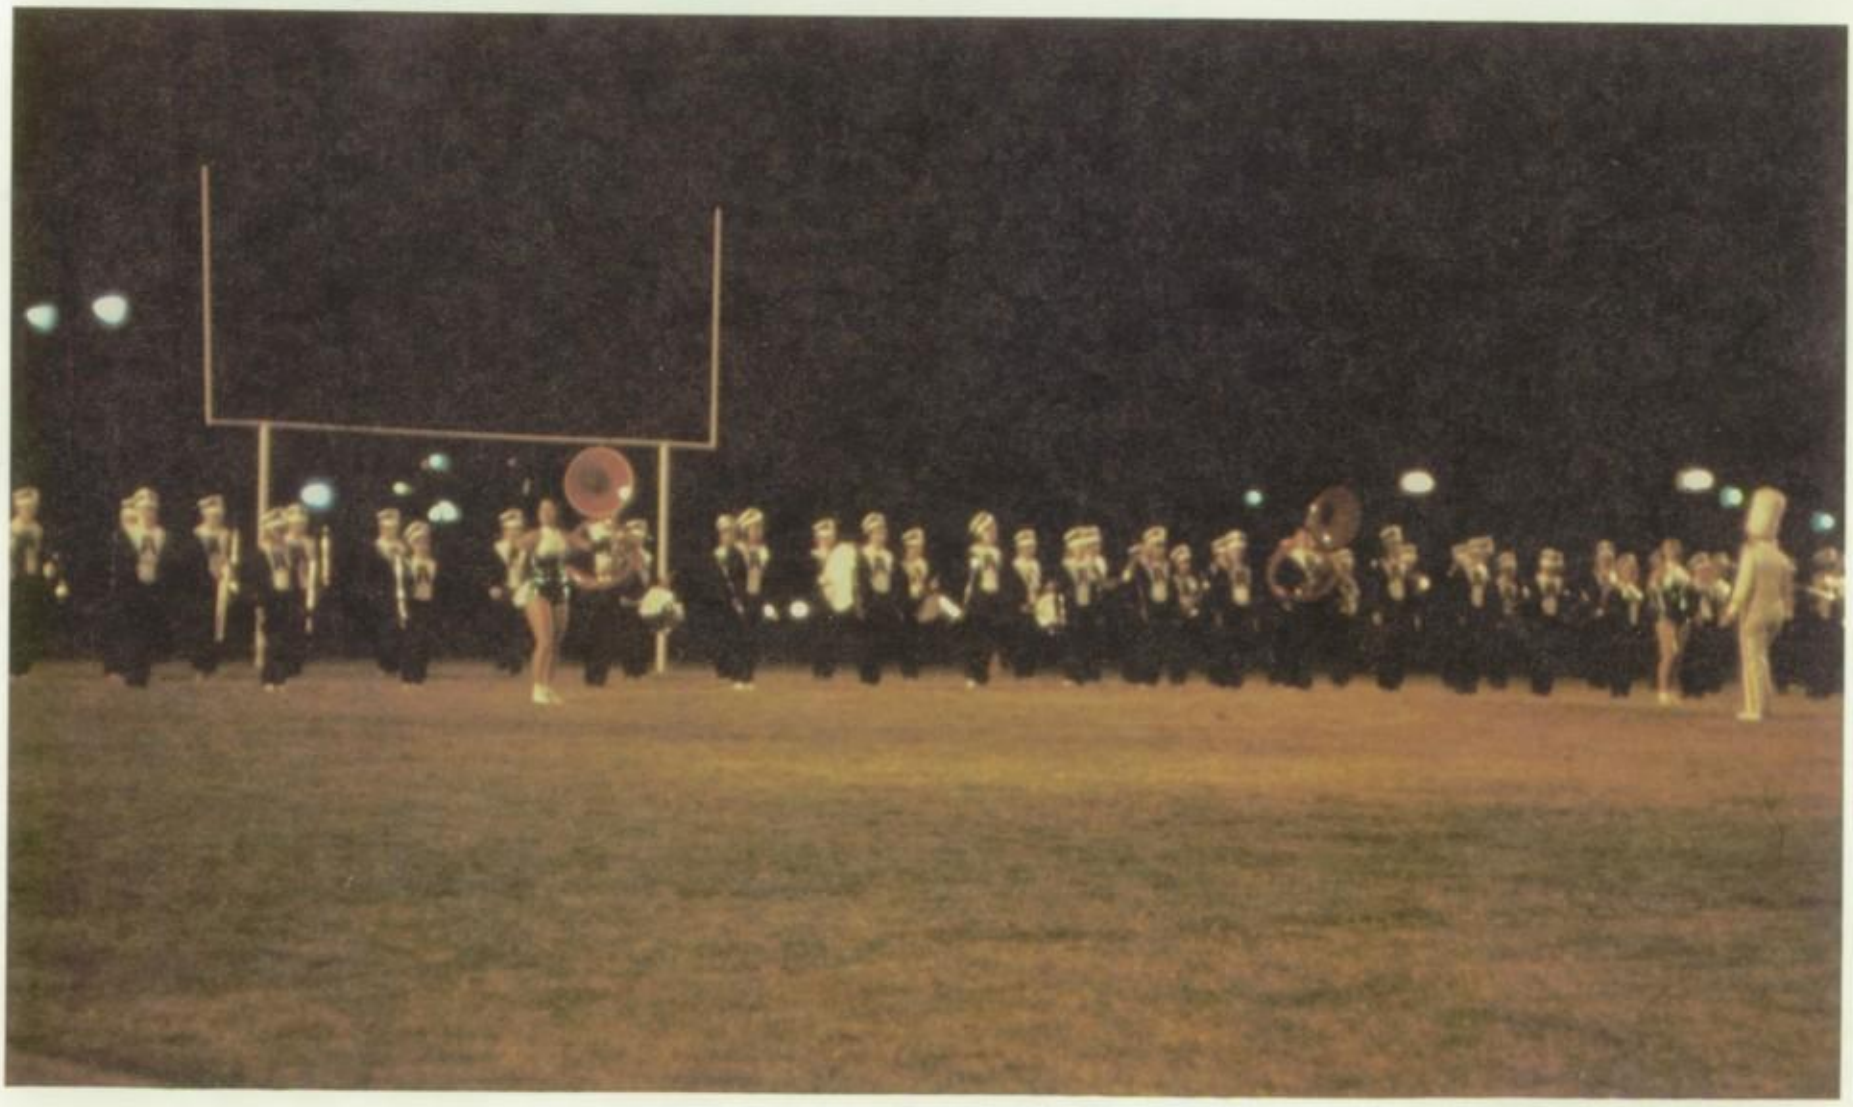
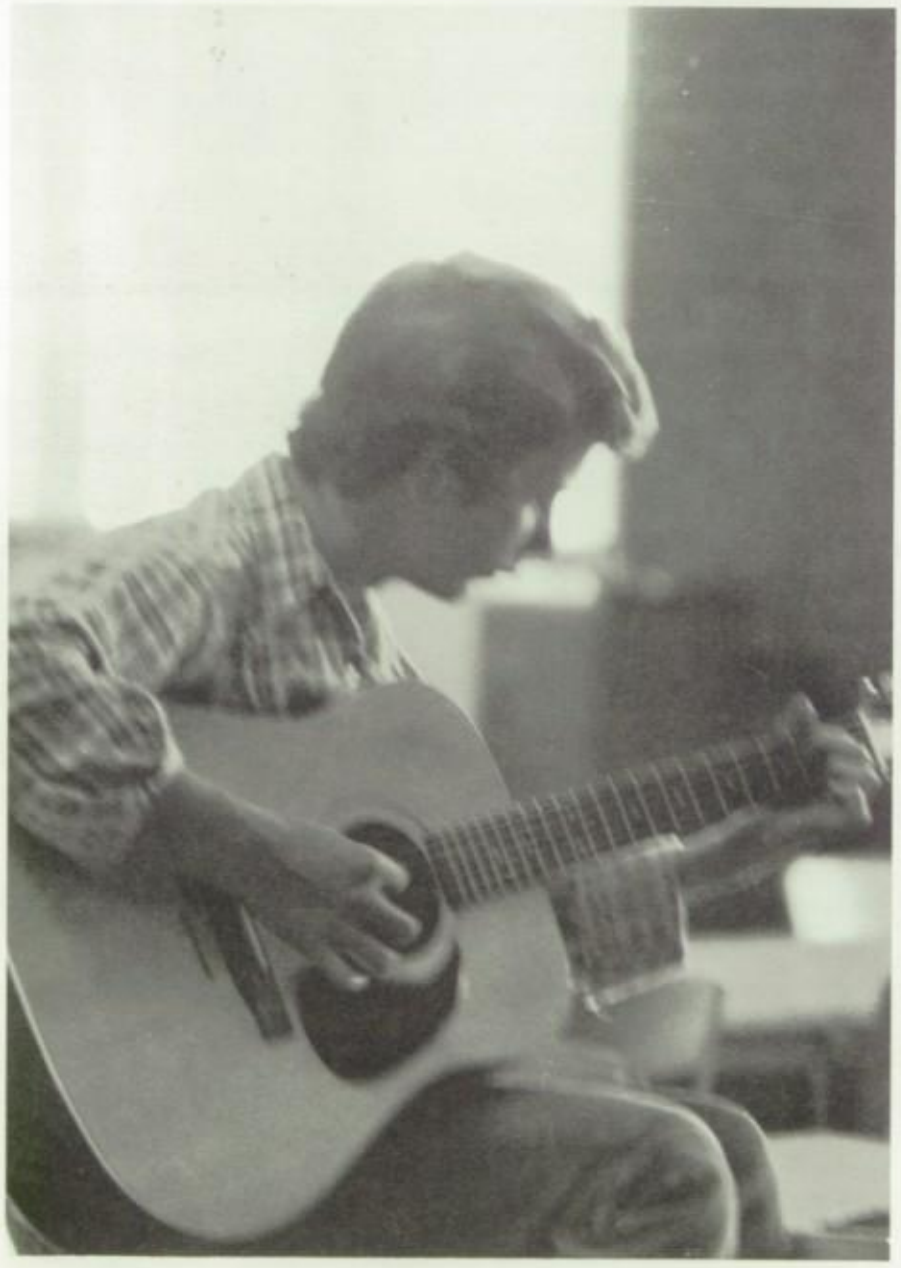
Reflections of the past four years fill our minds with memories of the experiences that we've shared.

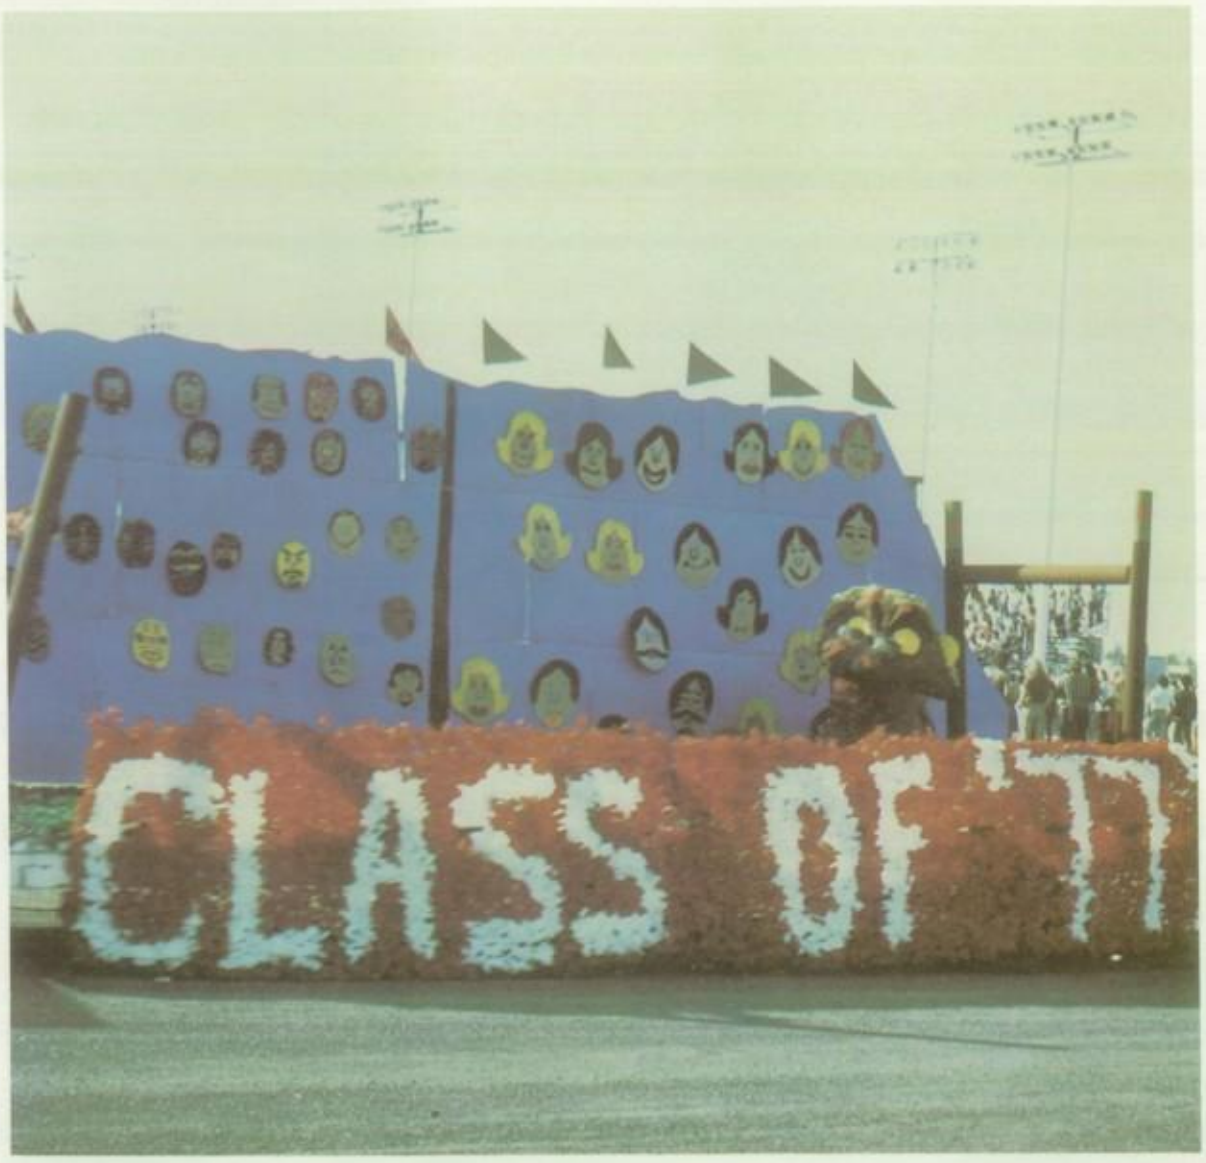
Freshman year was one of indecision and bewilderment. By Sophomore year most of us had fallen into clubs and activities that helped us develop a sense of belonging at Alhambra. As Juniors we began making plans and giving thought to our futures. Finally, as Seniors, we had to crystalize these thoughts into definite career and college plans.

Hopefully, the knowledge we've gained during high school will help to prepare us for what is to come.

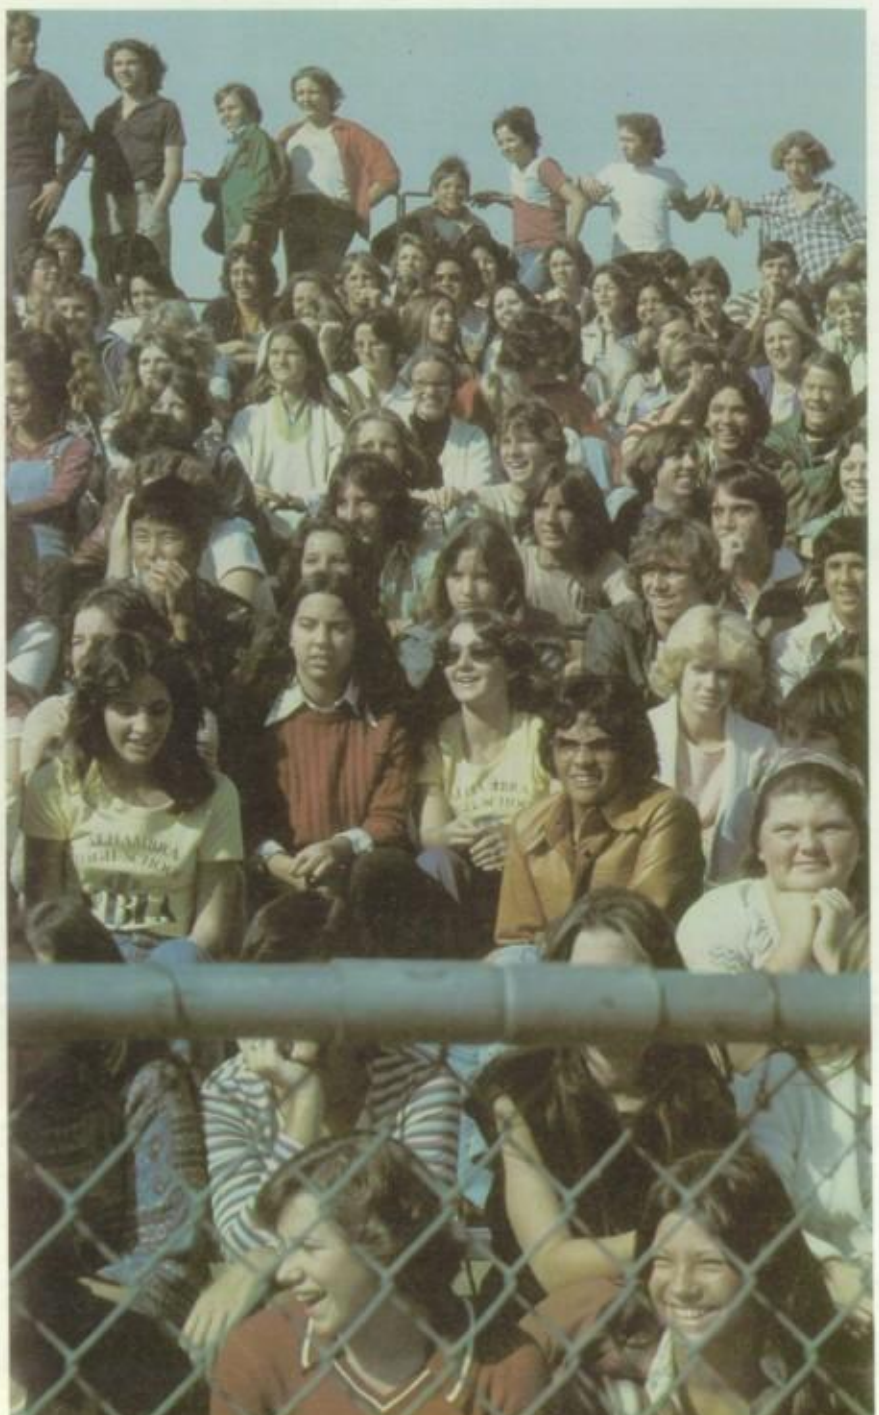


Alhambra means different things to all of us. Some will remember the games and concerts, plays and matches, that helped them to express their individuality and attain the experience of working together for a common goal. Others will remember favorite classes and clubs that enabled them to channel their interests, while helping to prepare for their futures. But, all of us will remember the laughter and people who have made the years a little easier and Alhambra a little harder to leave.





CLASS OF 81



High school has affected us all; whether it's been for the better or worse, it's there. Even with the sense of pride at graduation, most of us will feel sadness at leaving. The Senior Assembly and Graduation night itself show us how much high school meant to each of us in our own way. So, at last, the class of 1977 says goodbye.

Students go "Ape" over Homecoming

"Deep In the Jungle" was the Homecoming theme this year. All week during both lunch hours there were various activities and contests being held. Activities such as Tarzan Calling, Banana Eating, and Door Decorating were highlights.

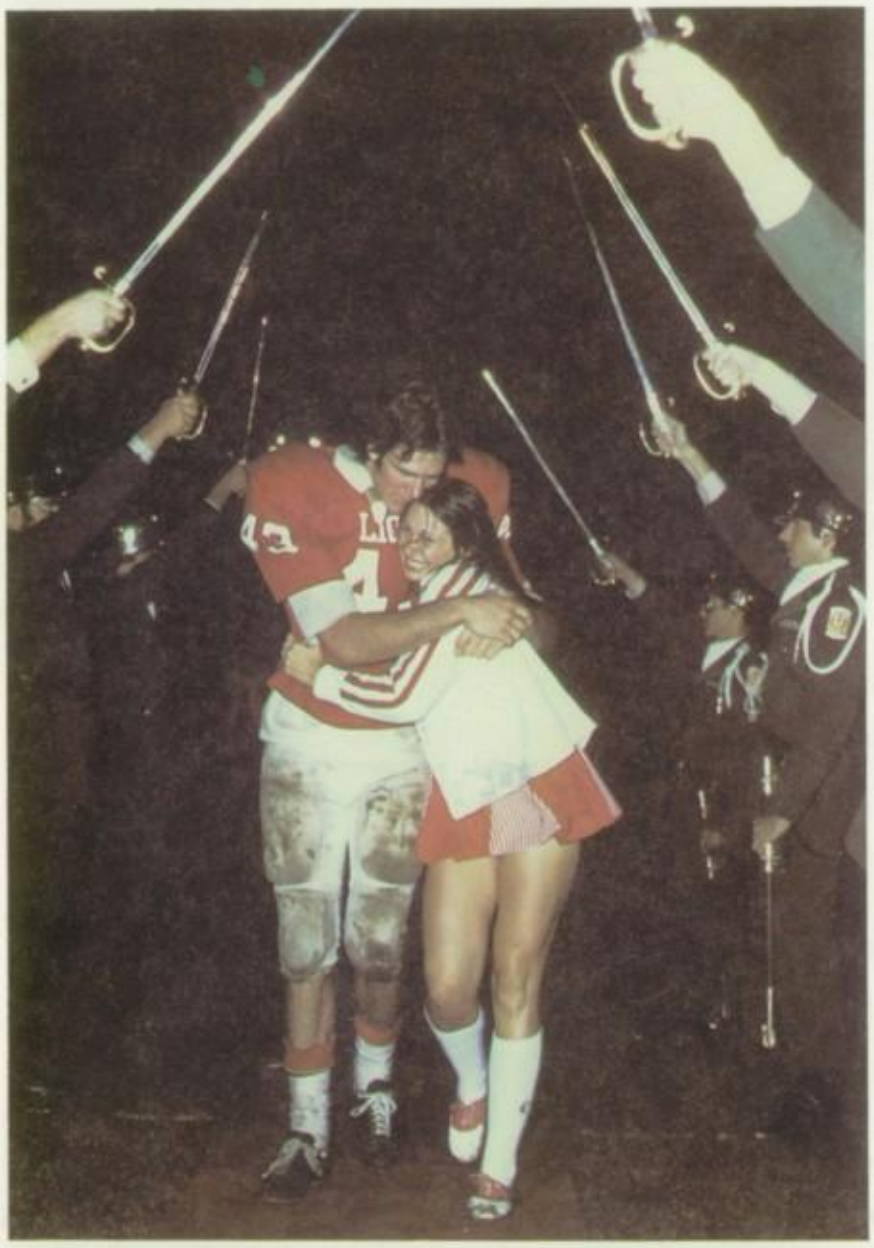
There were four floats this year instead of three. The freshmen and sophomores showed the most artistic talent and took first place.

During the assembly, the nominees were announced and as before, second year lettermen dressed up as cheerleaders and did some routines.

Faithful Lion fans brought their Alhambra spirit with them to the rainy game that evening. At halftime, the crowning took place and attendants were announced. John Meyer and Sheryl Semmens happily received the honor of being Alhambra's 76-77 Homecoming King and Queen.

After Kandy Hagerman's name was called for nominee, Kristi Jones, Joni Austin, Tammy Hogan, and even a lion ran to congratulate her. Kandy was third attendant this year.

Semmens, Meyer '76-'77 Royalty



King John Meyer and Queen Sheryl Semmens happily embrace after being named Alhambra's 76-77 Homecoming Royalty.

Alhambra's varsity Cheer and Pom lines anxiously await to hear the names of the King and Queen. A few others discuss who they will be.

Anna Canez, 75-76 queen, congratulates John Meyer, while Sheryl Semmens is congratulated by an unidentified person.

Randy Moser escorts Laura Gillie after the two were announced second attendants at the Homecoming game.

S.Solmonson, K.Roberts, K.Hall, L.Kramer and H.Sahhar talk about the activities during the week of Homecoming.

The Varsity Football players stand around while waiting for Coach Kersting to announce the remaining players.

While the nominees were being read off, Rita Hyland and Debbie Bell talk to the returning DECA Rabbit.

Matt Owens, Mark Miraldi, and Jim Umland discuss what might happen during the game. In the meantime the others listen eagerly.

The red and green got soul supreme, while Burwin Bishop runs for a touchdown during the Homecoming game.

During the slave sale, Coach Kersting tells the crowd everything you wanted to know about Roger Bagley, but were afraid to ask.

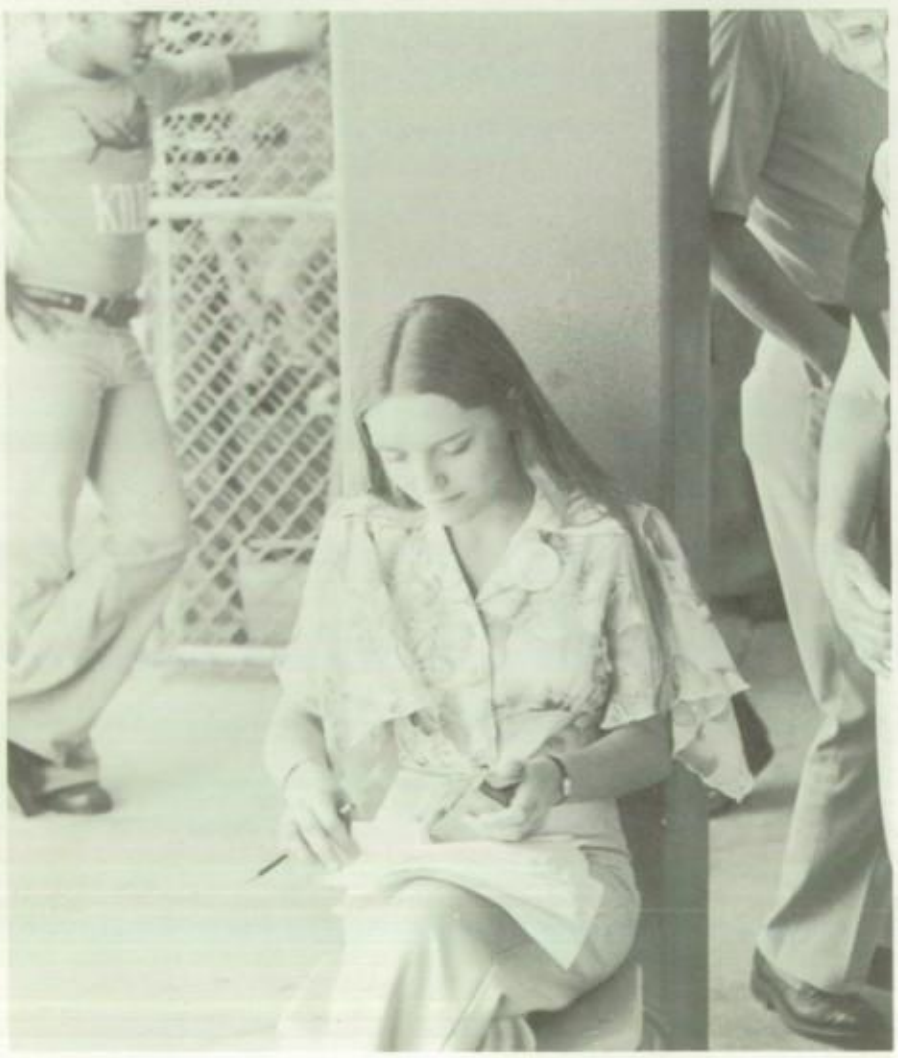
Student Government plans Homecoming

Mark Wood, President; Lisa Smith, Corresponding Secretary; Barry Wong, Treasurer; Mary De La Torre, Recording Secretary; Tom Tardibuono, Vice President.

Student Government is composed of the Student Senate, Activities Committee, and Student Executive Committee. All of these departments worked together and made school more enjoyable for the students as well as the faculty. In order to do this, activities were formed like Homecoming Week and the carnation sale, all with help from sponsor, Tom Goss.

Mr. Goss, Student Government sponsor, takes time out of his schedule for a quick picture.



Pam Majka is working busily as she hands out ballots at one of the elections. Pam is a member of the Activities Committee.

MacCallum leads Lions through year

This year's Mascots proved to have viscious school spirit, which was successful in getting attention. School spirit was raised tremendously by using two lions. The roaring lions go to all football and basketball games as well as pep assemblies.

The girls were led through the year by Captain Karen MacCullum, Co-Captain Beverly Wolf, and their sponsor Jill Mason. This year they were invited to a Glendale Community College game where all the mascots from all of the schools attended. Not only did the mascots get picked by their ability to perform, but also by their school spirit.

Semmens, Jackson lead varsity cheers

Led by Captain Sheryl Semmens and Co-Captain Linda Jackson, the Alhambra 1976-77 Varsity Cheer Line had an eventful year. They raised school spirit by attending all athletic events and pep assemblies during the year.

Last summer the cheers attended camp in Thatcher, Arizona. There they received two superior ribbons, three excellents and were awarded one superstar ribbon for outstanding achievement. The girls worked hard after school, and the night before the games they served the players cookies and punch.

Junior Varsity Cheers boost spirit

This year the Junior Varsity cheerleaders were lead by captain Sandy Fisher and co-captain Julie Canez. They helped boost spirit at all home games and most of the away games by doing various routines.

The girls performed at all pep assemblies, which were held at both lunch hours, throughout the year. They attended practices everyday from 3:00 to 5:00 in the afternoon.

During the summer, they were invited to attend camp at Eastern Arizona College, where cheerleaders throughout the state showed their talents. They received two superior ribbons and three excellent ribbons.

Nelson twirls ahead

This year the Majorettes marched with the band and performed at many of the sports events.

Along with their leader Mr. Lebs, captain Laurie Nelson showed the new girls her talents she learned last year.

To be a majorette, each girl has to be able to twirl a baton. Through this they develop excellent timing which is needed to be a majorette.

The girls practiced to perform at the Christmas Assembly and the Spring Dance Concert, which took much hard work.

"REFLECTIONS," 76-77 theme

Time, effort, and patience were needed by all FORTRESS staffers to meet the final deadlines this year. Editor Jill Walsh, and advisor Larry Cunningham did their very best to make the staff work their hardest.

Since most of last year's staff was Seniors, the staff this year had to be introduced to the procedures that go into making the FORTRESS the best it can be.

The theme this year was "Reflections." After the last deadline was met, everyone sat back in relief.

Jill Thomas and Linda Humble, academics, look up names for their section. They both are full year staffers.

SCIMITAR keeps school informed

This year the SCIMITAR consisted of eleven staffers and an Editor in Chief. The staff worked every day for one hour to produce the newspaper, which was delivered twice a month.

Under the guidance of Mr. Krey, they attended press conferences and obtained all the information they could to make the paper interesting.

Every two weeks during third hour, the staff sold its paper to interested students. This year they managed to increase their profits from last year.

They participated in the Talent Show, State Fair, and also the Rodeo.

Their main objectives were to promote individual playing ability and to raise spirits at all home games and pep assemblies.

The girls picked the Choralette of the week and of the month. They had a Fall and a Spring concert this year, along with a Christmas program.

Chorale consists of both boys and girls. They sang classical music as well as popular music this year. The group adopted a new name, "The Alhambra Singers."

There were three concerts this year, Fall, Christmas, and Spring. They were all as usual, great! In May, the Singers went to A.S.U. to compete with other schools all over the state. At the festival, excellent and superior groups were chosen and awarded certificates.

Service projects involve NHS members

The National Honor Society was involved in various community service projects and held many fund raising events this past year. The money raised was used for scholarships to be awarded two members at the end of the year.

A different aspect of NHS this year was the addition of special guest speakers at each monthly meeting. These meetings were open to any interested students and teachers.

Once a month, the Executive Board, a combination of the four officers and the four committee chairmen, met to discuss the business of the month. This year the board was made up of Deanie Wlodek, President; Victor Lewis, Vice President; Karen Holzer, Secretary; and Iris Nedbal, Treasurer. The committee chairmen who helped were Jill Walsh, Fund Raising; Andrea McMillan, Service; Bob Bice, Tutoring; and Tom Brashears, Programs.

Nancy Johnson represented Alhambra this year by acting as A.F.S. foreign exchange student. She spent last summer with an adopted family in Quillota, Chile. Her family spoke no English and she was forced to learn Spanish fluently.

Nancy was chosen above several other contestants and was named in the spring of her junior year.

This year four students represented Alhambra at the Boy's and Girl's State Conventions held in Tucson and Flagstaff, where they had to set up model governments. The four, who were selected above other contestants, were Sam Glaser, Mary DeLaTorre, Louise Bosson, and Tom Brashears.

Optimists, Rotarians honored monthly

Each year senior students are honored by the Rotarian and Optimist Clubs by being announced "Student of the Month." A boy and girl are chosen for each month of the school year, and attend special luncheons given for them throughout that month. These students are chosen because of their character, grades, and school involvement along with their leadership during high school.

Meyer, Wilky lead mighty Lions

This year's Varsity Football Team was what might be called a "hard luck team." Even though they had a three and seven record they were in every game and were close enough to win most of them. They just seemed to have the wrong thing happen at the wrong time. The thing that probably hurt the team most was losing Randy Moser because of a broken collar bone.

The captains this year were Brian Wilky and John Meyer. Brian was a starter in every game for two years and was the leading tackler. John started for three years and was the leading pass receiver. Both were selected to the Phoenix All-Division Team.

Even though the Lions' record may look disappointing, none of their performances were. The many Lion fans could always look forward to seeing a great game. The team never let them down.

Alhambra's JV really on the move

Posting a record of eight wins and two losses with five shutouts, Alhambra's Junior Varsity Football Team finished with another outstanding season. The Lions outscored their opponents in total points by a margin of more than two to one.

This is easy to understand when some of the team's offensive players' yardages are looked at. Brad Anderson, who was named the Most Valuable Player, was also the leading rusher with four hundred twenty-six yards. Gary Wendorf led in total yards with eight hundred sixty-two. In their game against West High School, Alhambra's Rick Aguilera rushed for two hundred sixteen yards. Kerry Kersting had thirteen pass completions for a total of one hundred sixteen yards.

In total yards the team had two thousand three hundred twenty-nine yards. Total yards rushing were one thousand eight hundred twenty-seven. In yards passing there was a total of five hundred two. In yards returned the Lions had five hundred sixty-two.

Some of the outstanding offensive players the Junior Varsity Team had were Chuck Croegaert, John DiBiase, Mitch Laird, and Mike Johnson. Outstanding defensive players were David Ohton, Mitch Callahan, Kerry Kersting, Alex Mendez, Bob Hodge, Brian Cole, and Gene Jackson. These players, along with the rest of the Junior Varsity Team, all helped lead the Mighty Lions through another very successful season.

With so many outstanding players and such a good season, the Alhambra High Varsity coaches must be looking forward to the next two years.

Cross Country

Minster leads X-Country

This year's team was led by Dean Minster, running number one in most of the meets. With only two lettermen returning Coach Morrison said things looked pretty slim. They had many new faces and many young runners with a home desire. They improved every week winning the last five meets. The Varsity's seasonal record was seven wins and five losses, placing third in the city meet. Dean Minster placing ninth in the divisional meet really helped the team.

This year's J.V. team had a great year. The team won the city championship, and also had a 10-2 seasonal record. Wayne Bishop was the outstanding J.V. runner.

The Freshman team's seasonal record was 9-2-1, but ended up the year short of runners to have a team for the city meet. Gregg Bell was outstanding freshman runner, ending the year as their fifth runner and lettering.

Their outstanding achievement of the year was the victory over arch rivals the East High Longhorns. This victory gave Alhambra the title of Division Champs and from there the Lions went to State.

Leading the Lions to victory after victory were seniors John Meyer and Curtis Walling, and sophomore Brent Jones.

John was Alhambra's Most Valuable Player and was voted First Team All-Division and First Team All-State. Curtis was Second Team All-League and was the leading free throw shooter. Brent was voted First Team All-Division and Third Team All-State.

The Lions had an average of 72.4 points per game while their opponents averaged only 59.1, a difference of 13.3 points.

Basketball team puts it up and in Basketball is the name of the game, which the JV Team proved to be. With many new faces out this year they had a great team, with a season record of eleven wins, and eight losses. Coach Nobley coaching and leading the team on all through the season, said "they had a lot of interest and talent, and was an excellent team to coach. All twelve were excellent and I really can't say one is more valuable than the other." They played as a team all year putting in many hard practicing hours throughout the season.

Alhambra's Varsity Basketball Team will be looking for men from this team for next year.

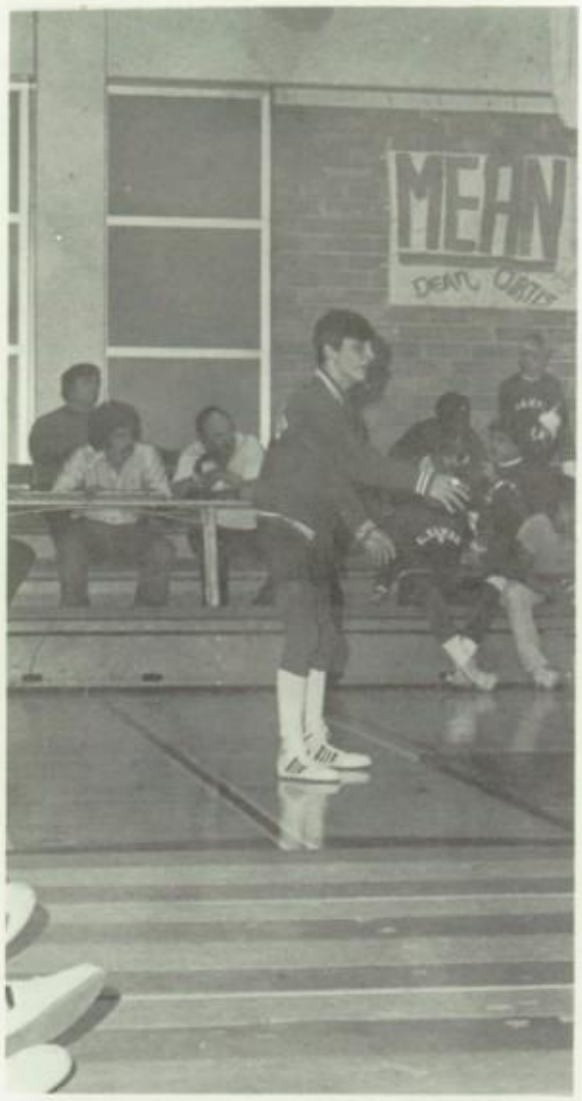
Alhambra wrestlers move to win

This year's Wrestling team was a young, inexperienced team but they made many outstanding accomplishments. The "smoother movers" took third place in the Washington Invitational, tenth out of thirty-eight teams in the Peoria Tournament, second in the Division Tournament, and fourteenth in the State. They were eight and two in dual meets.

Eleven wrestlers went to the State Tournament and five of them will be returning next year to Alhambra.

Two reasons for the team's great success were Senior Greg Perkins and Junior Don Mabry. Greg won the Washington Invitational and Peoria Tournament, was Division Champion, and Co-Captain of the team.

Don was undefeated in dual meets, was the Washington Invitational Champion and Outstanding Wrestler in the low weights, Division Champion, State Champion, Grand State Champion, and was voted the Outstanding Wrestler of Grand State Champions.



The enthusiasm of Don Mabry is caught by a photographer while he cheers on a teammate at a match.

IMPACT, Magic clubs small but active

This year was one of the most joyful ever experienced by the IMPACT Club on the Alhambra campus. In March, a large convention was held in Tucson with all the other IMPACT clubs invited. The IMPACT Club had fund raising activities to help raise money for this trip such as the Valentine Cookie Sale in February. They also performed service projects such as taking handmade crafts to the members of the childrens' ward of the Baptist Hospital, and good will trips to numerous nursing homes throughout the Valley. IMPACT was mainly a social club loosely related to Home Economics.

Magic Club helped to promote and encourage magic on the Alhambra campus. The club had a magic show in the fall during both lunch hours that drew good crowds. The highlight of the year came with the presentation of the Magician of the year award.

Spikettes sharp, Handball walledin

Handball Club was a first this year, and hopefully not the last. The main purpose of the club was to give girls an opportunity to learn how to play the game and to participate freely.

One thing they hoped to accomplish this year was to get a good team going and compete against other schools.

However, due to a new law, the club could not be just for girls, so, consequently, it was disbanded.

Next year the club will be for both males and females and should be well on it's way to becoming a major club on campus.

One of the most important groups on campus this year was Spikettes. They helped promote school spirit during this year's successful track season. Appreciation was given them for all the time and effort they spent this year!

Administrators work for Alhambra

Mr. Wellesley G. Goodwin organized and was president of the Principal's Advisory Team, known as PAT. This group was made up of administrators from Alhambra. The end result of PAT was better school decisions based upon wider participation.

The Campus Committee studied matters of concern on campus and made recommendations to Mr. Goodwin. The committee recommended a policy to cover the duties of class sponsors. All sponsors were required to attend the class meetings, to chaperone their dances, and participate in homecoming and money-making activities of the class.

Continual progress was made in the area of attendance. The percentage of absentees lessened throughout the year. Also, registration procedures for second semester were streamlined in order to cut down the number of scheduling conflicts.

Principal Wellesley Goodwin checks the teacher's schedule of classes to see where particular teachers are at the time he needs to speak to them.

Mr. Goodwin and Mr. Berger are discussing a matter concerning Alhambra. They work together on problems that have to do with the good of the school.

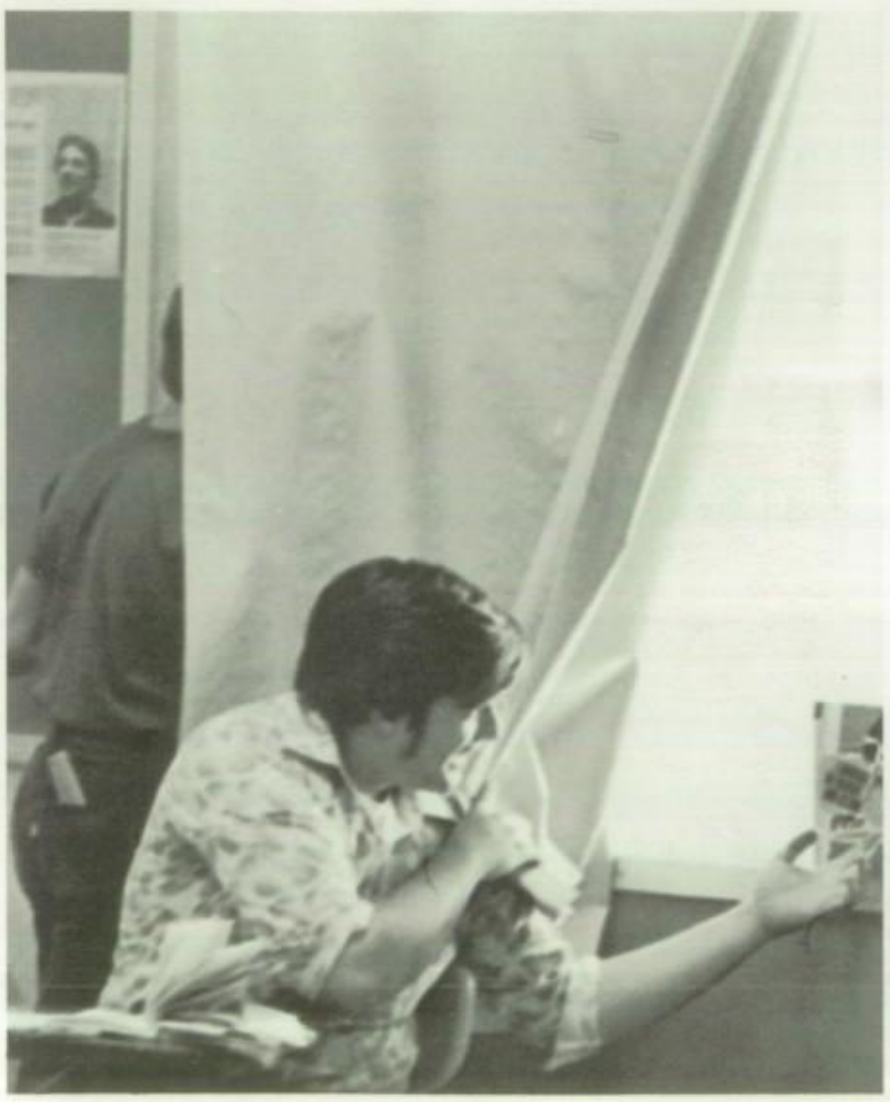
The English Department was an important department at Alhambra High. Not only was the knowledge of English important, but English was a required course. So to make the best of what had to be, there were a variety of courses that were available to take. Modern Grammar, Mythology, Creative Writing, Mass Media, and other classes contributed to the selection of courses.

The teachers in the English Department attempted to have each student communicate through writing and speaking to the best of his or her ability. They also tried to instill in each student an appreciation and liking for literature.

Mass Media students enjoy writing and preparing their own film.



Putting a little light on the subject is what Steve Monroe seems to be doing in his English class.

The objectivies of the Foreign Language Department in this past year has been to teach students to understand, read, and write in another language. In addition to this, it familiarizes the student with the culture of the country in which the language they are studying is spoken.

Procedures used in teaching a foreign language are that of the aural-oral method combined with reading and writing.

Encouragement is given to students to practice the foreign language being studied by visiting places where the language is exercised. One such example of encourgement was the trip that the fourth year Spanish students made to Guadalajara, Mexico.

Basic math essentials stressed

Miss Vollstedt, while in her math lab class, looks over the assignments that her students have handed in for corrections as students work around her on similar math problems.

In the Mathematics Department a greater emphasis was directed on the basics and fundamentals of arithmetic. The reason for this was the basics-skills requirement. These basics could be obtained by taking General Math. Seniors could refresh their memory by taking the Senior Math Review class.

Among the many objectives that the Mathematics Department stressed was to minimize the failure rate at the freshman and sophomore levels. They also wanted to attract a greater percentage of juniors and seniors.

Variety adds interest in Science Dept.

This year the students in the Science Department were offered a variety of classes to choose from: Biology 1-3, Consumer Chemistry, Chem-Physics, Earth Science, Physiology 1, and an advanced course in Chem-Physics.

Depending upon which course the students took, they could learn how to operate microscopes, spectroscopes, and Bunsen burners. They also dissected, studied gravitation, aquarium life, or worked with test tubes and chemicals.

The word "science" comes from the Latin word scientia which means knowledge. And all the science classes made available offered some sort of particular knowledge based upon observation, study and experimentation.

Sue Gillie, Michael La Plante, and Sue Johnson take a brief intermission as they take notes in Mr. Zeigler's biology class.

Courses offered by the Home Economics Department provided learning experiences for high school students. The courses offered helped the students in personal and family living and in making career choices.

Laboratory experience was provided in most of the courses. This method of teaching provided students with a solid base for learning, by doing. An example of this was HERO, which provided on the job training in restaurant and hotel related occupations.

Industrial Ed helps develop skills

Industrial Education stressed the importance of students developing their skills and learning how to use them properly. This department taught students to perform orderly and efficiently in tasks related to industrial education activities. It provided experience in the use of basic hand and machine tools through activities.

After taking an industrial education course, each student should have developed cooperative attitudes, a readiness to assist others, and a feeling of pride in his ability to accomplish a task.

New programs in the department this year included Motorcycle Maintenance and Pre-vocational Drafting.

The Drafting class, offered by the Industrial Education department, requires imagination and patience in drawing up plans.

Availability of courses enhanced

The Department of Social Studies was an important part of just about every Alhambra High student. One reason for this was partly because of the requirements that all students must meet each year such as Arizona Constitution, American History, Free Enterprise and American Government.

Another reason was the availability of some interesting courses like Sociology, Humanities, and Anthropology. These classes involved the development and organization of people living together in social groups, also the branches of human learning concerned with thought, and last of all the relations of races and their various physical and mental characteristics, customs and social relations.

Participation in daily activities

Teacher aides assisted the teachers throughout the year and became an important part of the faculty at Alhambra. The aides spent time with students who were having difficulty with a particular subject, tutoring and helping them to better understand their problem.

Security kept a close watch on all students during the year. They checked for hall passes to reduce the number of students ditching class. They enforced rules for driving in the parking lot.

Memories of past linger in Seniors' minds

SENIOR CLASS SENATE: Robin Hamilton, Pete Owens, and Randy Stinnett.

The class of 1977 finished its last year at Alhambra with mixed emotions. The feeling of pride and a sense of accomplishment filled all their minds at the thought of graduating. Regret and sadness were also felt by many, as they realized that the experiences and friendships of the past four years will soon be memories.

Throughout high school, seniors have been taking classes and making plans that will affect their lives. All have goals and ambitions for the future.

The times have changed since Freshman year, and so have the attitudes and ideals of most seniors. Teachers have influenced them, and so have the students they have met and gone through school with. Although most are glad to graduate, they will always carry a little of the things they've learned with them.

Let us look forward to the times to come, and the things we may be able to contribute to the world. But, let us never forget what we're leaving behind for that holds the key to the future.

An unexpected senior, Greg Chapman, is caught by photographers as he looks aimlessly for security while sneaking a coke into the quad.

"Don't waste a precious moment.
For today may be your last, be

"Look towards the future," we're advised, by scientists who lead us.
"For there we'll find true happiness and nothing will defeat us."

But who remembers yesterday,

For without the past to guide us through
The battle's hardly won.

I find the great thing in this world is not so much where we stand, as in what direction we're moving.

During the College Information Assembly for Seniors, ROTC was one of many programs offered for students to learn more about.

With a friend at hand, you will see the light

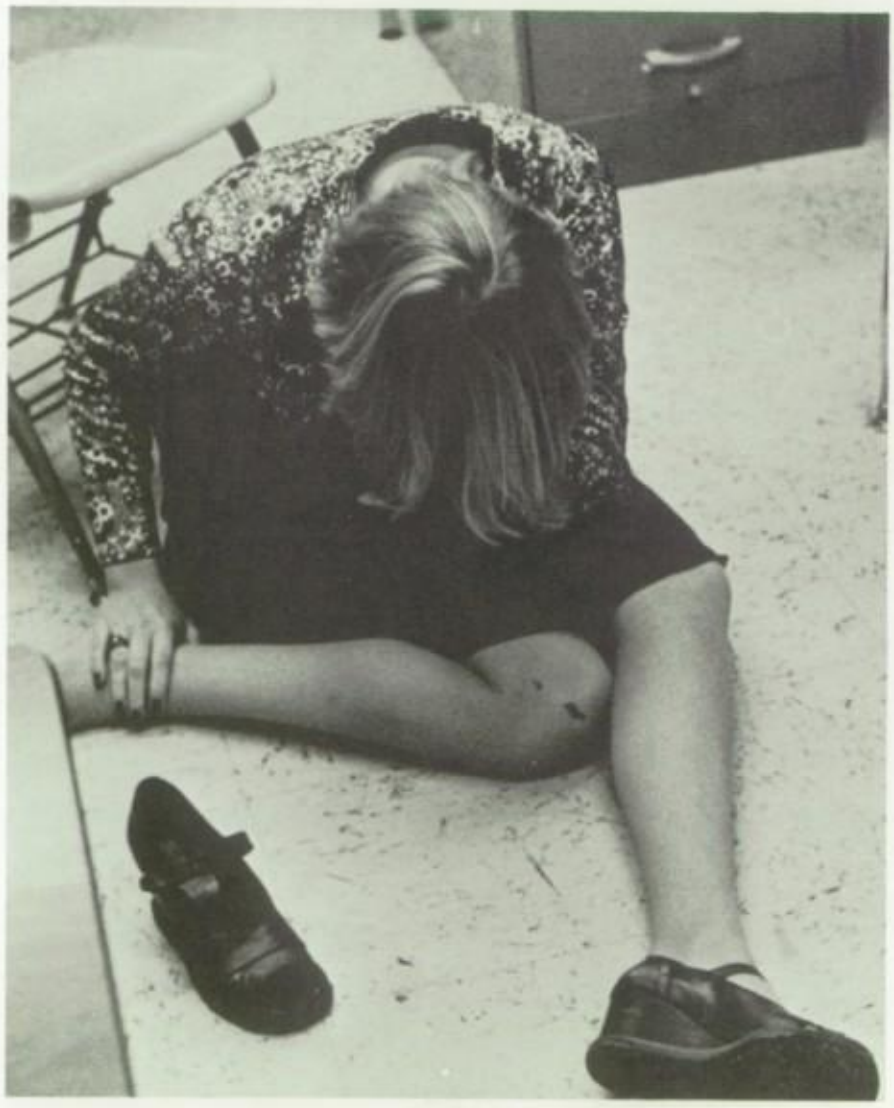
No matter where we all may go
No matter what we may be
From what we've shared you must know
You are a part of me.

Dana Smithers works busily on her typing problem. Most seniors take business courses to help them prepare for a secretarial position.



Oh, the perils of graduation! At times seniors feel like just giving up, but after our final year is over, we know it was all worthwhile.

One of the big attractions of Homecoming is the choosing of royalty. Here the nominees are shown after thay have just been announced.

The Junior Class this year did much toward the betterment of Alhambra.

This class of 1976-77, was one of the most active at Alhambra. By sponsoring many activities, including a fall bake sale, the class was able to raise money to support different events during the year.

The Junior Class was led this year by President Don Mabry, Vice-President Andrea Hardison, and Secretary-Treasurer Diane Trujillo. With the help of the Senate the class was constantly moving on to new things, setting a precedent for others to follow.

The Junior Class still has one year ahead at Alhambra to look forward to. They believe that they will do their best to make it the best year that Alhambra High School has had yet!

One of the money raising projects was the class sponsored dance after a football game. The dance featured the group "Factory."

Members of the class worked close with the sponsors and in cooperation with the Freshman Class in building the Homecoming float that took first place honors in the contest.

Senators Julie Masters, Cathy Etz, and Trish Turpin represented the sophomores well in Student Government.

Sophomores order class rings early

Sue Gillie, Becky Trimble, Katie Nielson, Lisa Gayhaffer take time to talk to Mascot, after being introduced at the winter assembly.

Sophomores had a lab science requirement to meet for graduation This is a hallway view of a display done in a biology class.

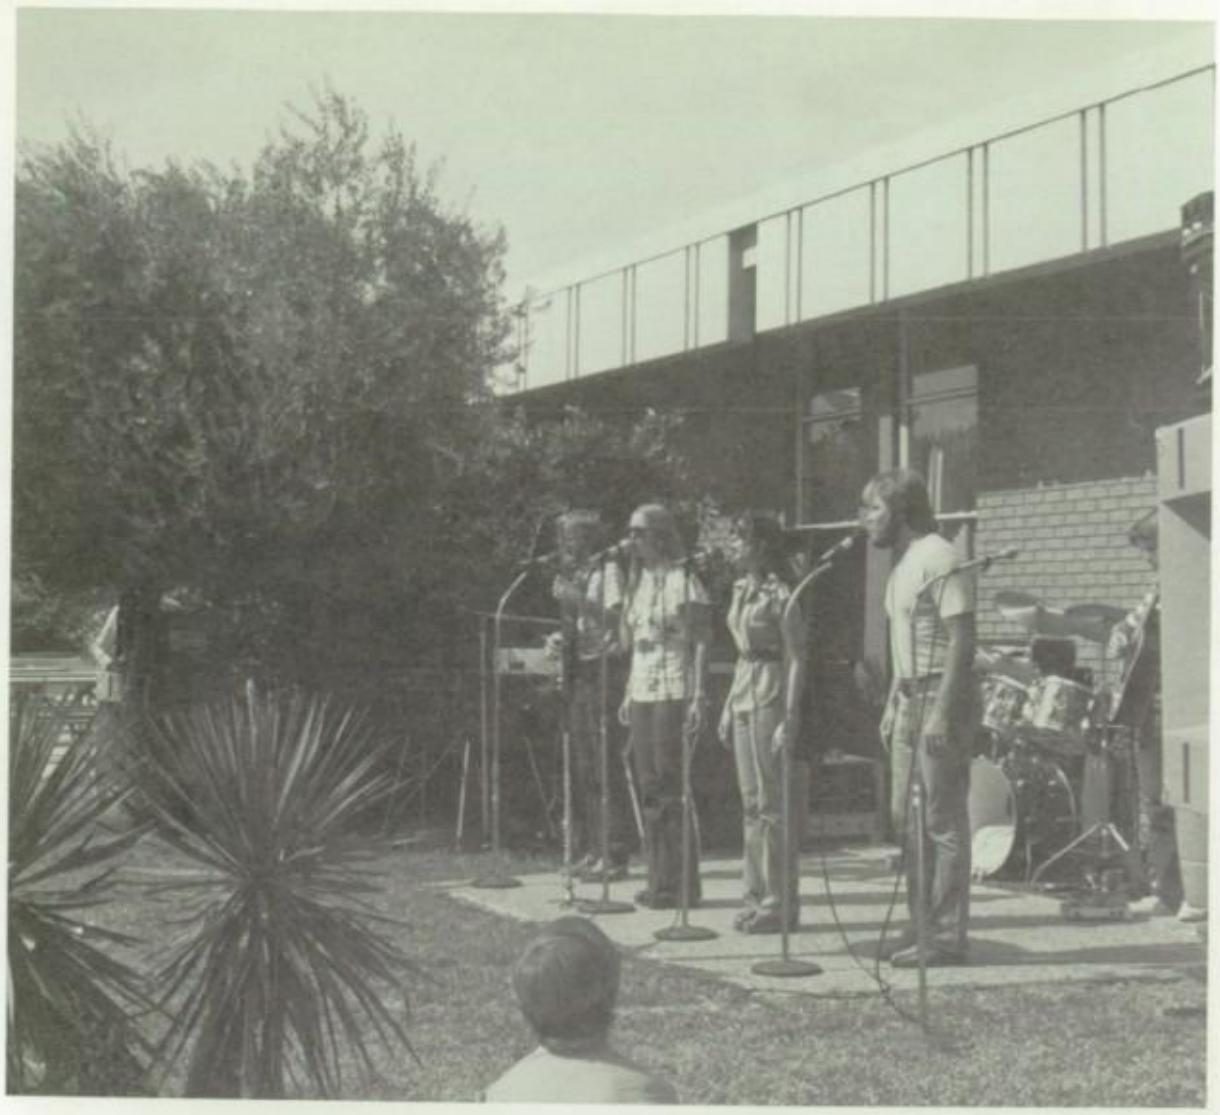
Sophomore Mike Howell was in charge of machines on campus. This kept him busy since everyone loves a cold drink.



Many times during the year groups will come to Alhambra to entertain the student body.

Shown above is the group "The Bridge" which performed 4th and 5th hours in the quad.

Students are intensely watching the wild antics of the Homecoming gorilla, which helped symbolize the 1976-77 theme "Deep In The Jungle."

Enthusiastic freshmen help build Homecoming float

This year's Freshman Class added much enthusiasm to the campus. One way they showed this enthusiasm was by cooperating with the Sophomore Class in the building of their Homecoming float, entitled "Boil the Birds."

They sponsored one of the dances after one of the football games. This year's President was Tammy Kowacz, Vice President was Debbie Haertel and Secretary-Treasurer was Nancy Walsh.

With help from the senators, the freshmen had a fulfilled year.

A student takes a lonely walk between the library and the benches to her next class.

The student benches sit alone after being deserted after lunch. The benches are a common meeting place for students.

During the month of September student pictures were taken. This is one of the many freshmen patiently awaiting.

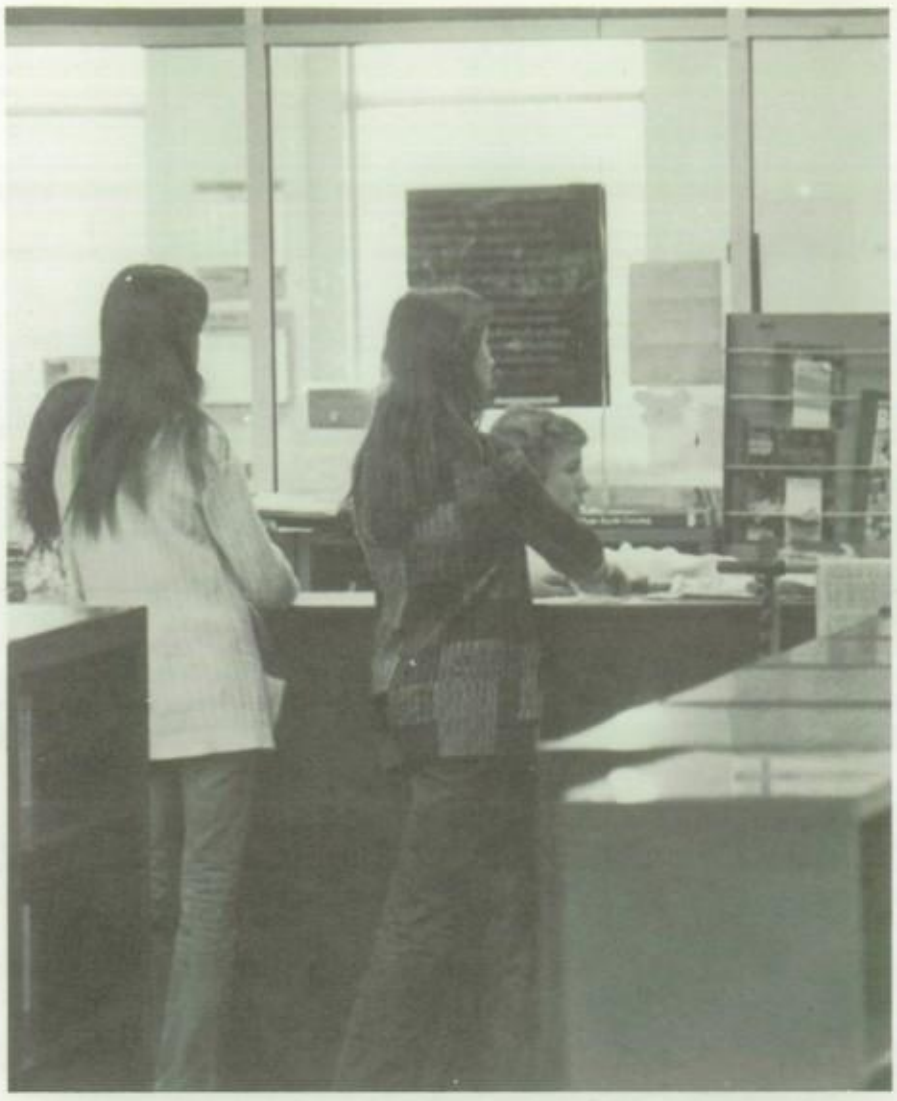
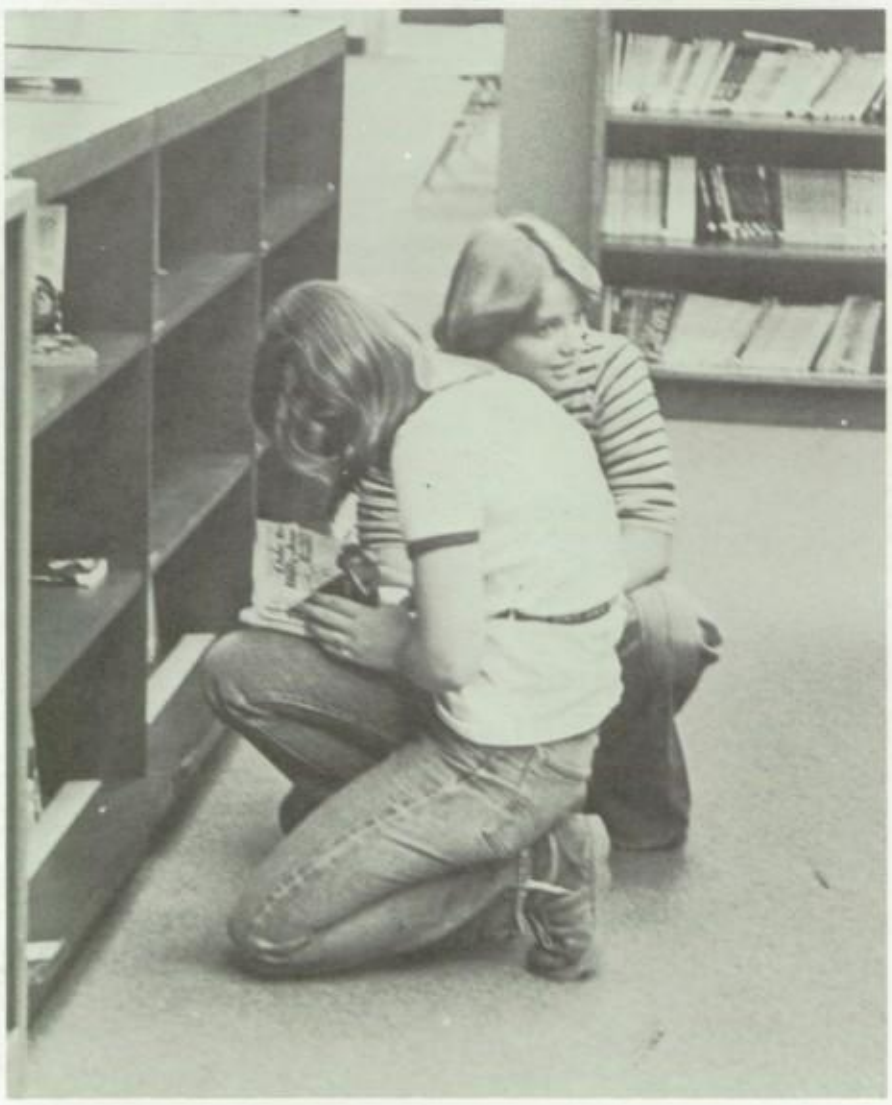
Santa, Judy Callahan, and helper Debbie Haertel, are conversing during the lunch hour, the week previous to Christmas.



Lori Marino is discussing with her friend which magazine to pick at the IMC desk in the Freshman Communications Building.

Kim Fortner, skills tutor, is teaching freshmen students reading skills. This is a new way of helping freshmen pass the MRPA test.

"Get your, pictures taken with Santa for Christmas!" This was the slogan for the activity sponsored by the Freshman Class Officers.



Two unidentified freshmen students talk about one of the many books filed in the Freshman IMC. This Library is available only to frosh.

Freshman Communications teachers Mrs. Wharton, Mrs. Borden, and Mrs. Heller are in the IMC trying to plan skills for the next day.

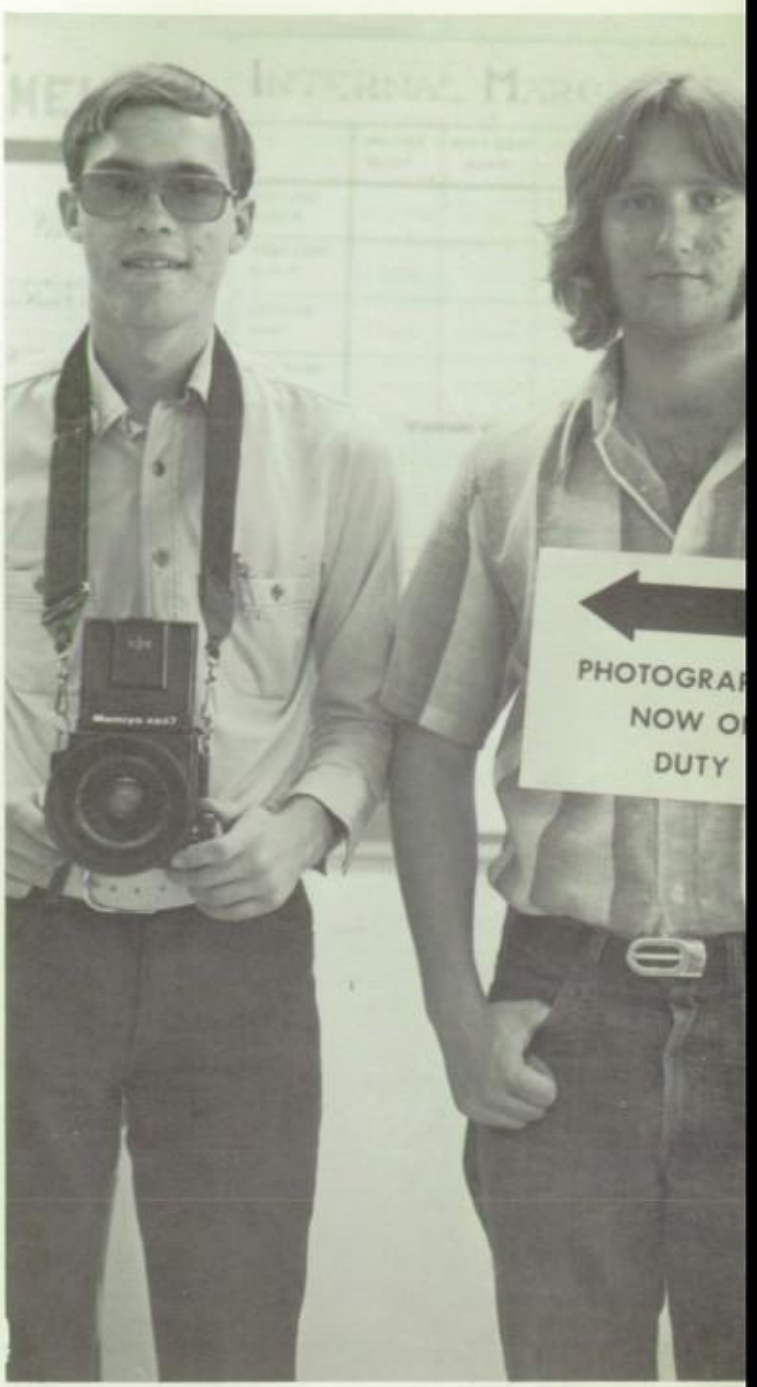
I started this year with enthusiasm and ambition as I contemplated the changes I wanted to make in the book. I soon realized that change is a gradual process and it is difficult to drastically change anything in a yearbook. Still, I feel the staff has made a concerted effort to create a book with quality, and I feel a personal pride in this edition of the FORTRESS.

I would like to thank Mrs. Poynter in the bookstore for her help with the individual pictures, along with the SCIMITAR staff for needed action shots. Also, I would like to give thanks to three special teachers at Alhambra who, besides understanding my absences because of the book, taught me a little about myself, and that I will never forget. They are Miss S.M. Phillips, Mrs. Renee Shorr, and especially Mr. Clayton Wootton. Most of all, I would like to thank Mr. Larry Cunningham, my advisor, for giving so much of his own time and effort. He has both my respect and admiration.



To the 1977 FORTRESS staff: I'm glad I can say, it's over! I don't think people realize the amount of work that goes into a yearbook, but we can only hope the commendations we receive outweigh the criticisms. We've learned a lot through the pressures and aggravations of the past year, and we've had some good times that have made it all seem worthwhile. Thanks to all of you, and especially to Perri, Linda, Alex, Randy, Myra, Paige, Carole, Kathy, Denise, and Susan for the extra time. I'm not saying that being Editor was always fun, but when I look at the concrete evidence of the past year, I realize I would do it all over again.
